Mr. Young introduced a resolution instructing the Judiciary committee to inquire whether the legislature has any authority to authorize towns and counties to loan their credit, and to report as speedily as possible. The ground of doubt on this point I suppose to be, that the constitution prohibits the leaning of the credit of the State, and that the loaning of the credit of towns and counties by authority of the state, amounts to the same thing—that it is, in fact a "suspension of belove he fell among ridiculous company, stood the rule" in regard to those portions of the state have among the wise men of the nation, seems to which such authority is granted. Cortain it is that if it was the object in making those provisions of the constitution concerning internal improvements and loaning the credit of the state, to rateet the people from the liabilities consequent therefrom, that object is defeated by conferring the authority which the state itself does not possess, upon towns and countles.

The same proposition is now pending before the Senate which, five or six or seven years ago, was knocked endwise by an offer tiom responsible men, to assume all the rights and liabilities of the state in regard to it, and to pay it, and take a judgement, instead of asking for commissioners to arbitrate? If the policy of alowing the state to be sued, be good for anything, it is just the thing for such doubtful and loggy claims as this. A matter of so much importance needs a more careful and thorough scrutiny than can be given it either by the legislastantial realities, and religion, with its hopes of ture, or a commission chosen by them, and be future good, and listen openmouthed to the dicta fore a more responsible tribunal than these com missioners, chosen no body knows how.

It stands up. on two tables, the first some twenty or thirty feet above the river, the second some 50 feet higher up-the first is small, the second contains a thousand acres or more, and then above that is a bluff or a succession of them, extending around the town, and these are dotted with, here and there, houses looking down at the town. There are two or three particulars in which it resembles Milwaukee. The town covers ground enough to contain two or three hundred thousand inhabitants. It is new and growing rapidly—and again, like your City of Bricks-it is on hills, but there is one thing in which it does not resemble Milwaukee-it rests upon rocks and cannot be digged down, and there are no low marshes, owned passed the U. Strong for Mayor of this city. A SETL—There was a run upon the Mayor, office on Saturday, occasioned, by an advertisement which appeared in the Express of that day, announcing the sale by auction of the valuable diamond ring presented to Mr. Burdett, the Mayor's Clerk, by Monsignor Bedini. The announcement of the "sale" brought nearly two hundred people together, but they, and not the ring, were "sold." The author of the hoax was in a particularly small line of business.—N. V. Times.

SCILPTURE FROM NINEVEH .- The Amherst Ex-Scripture from Ninevell.—The Amberst Express states that ten boxes of sculptured alabaster states and clay bricks from the roins of ameient Ninevell, sent by Dr. Lobdell, of the Mogul mission, to Amberst College, have recently arrived. They were brought more than four hundred miles on the backs of camels to Asia Minor, and are a good deal broken, so that a considerable time sour elapse before they can be fitted up for examination.

THE GROWING WHEAT CROP.—We learn from some of the farmers that there is fear that the growing wheat crop has been considerably injured within the past four weeks, by a costing of ice, which has covered it most of the time since the December and January snows went off. The fail growth has mostly been killed by the ice, but whether the roots are affected, cannot be ascertained until warm weather sets in. We trust the feare are unfounded.—Detroit Advertiser.

MORE EVIDENCE.

"Hoofland Bitters.—We have seen meny fixtering natices of this medicine, and the source from which the came induced us to tuake inquity respecting in marits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say we found it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and diseastive organs, and the powerful indusince it exerts upon nervous prostration is really surprising. Healms and strengthem the nerves, tringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.

"If this modicine was more generally used, we are satisfied there would be less sickness, as from the atomach, liver, and nervous system the great majority of real and imaginary diseases emanche. Have them in a healthy condition, and you can bid defiance to epidemics generally.—This extraordinary medicine we would advise ur friends who are at all indisposed, to give a trial—it will recommend itself. It should, in fact, be in every family. No other medicine can produce such exclemence of meric."

Evidence upon evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Useon, the last three years, and the stongest restimeny in its favor, it, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than all other nostrims combined, a fact that can easily be established, and fully program that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approved when presented oven in this form.
